"More and more, as time advances, our people will have to leave the cities. For years we have been instructed that our brethren and sisters, and especially families with children, should plan to leave the cities as the way opens before them to do so. Many will have to labor earnestly to help open the way. But until it is possible for them to leave, so long as they remain, they should be most active in doing missionary work, however limited their sphere of influence may be." White, Review and Herald, Sept. 27, 1906.

"When He was preparing Elijah for translation, God moved him from place to place, that the prophet might not settle down at ease, and thus fail of gaining spiritual power." White, Gospel Workers pp 269-270.

"The strongest argument in favor of the gospel is a loving and lovable Christian." White, The Ministry of Healing, p470.
